	high school stage	High school is very stressful. Class starts at 7:30 in the morning and ends at 5:30 in the afternoon. In the evening, I have to do homework and prepare for exams. The teachers always emphasize the need to study hard and strive to go to a first-class university, otherwise you will not be able to find a good job in the future. This makes us students feel college stage	I also had some issues with sexism in college. Some male students will sexually harass female students, and even some teachers will have inappropriate words and deeds towards female students. I think this kind of behavior is unacceptable, so I chose to stand up and defend stage of love	My boyfriend and I are in the same company, and our relationship was known in the company. Some co-workers started talking about our private lives, and some even questioned whether we were a good fit to be together. It hurts us and makes us stage of unemployment	My unemployment phase happened in 2018, when I was working at an AI startup, but I was one of the people who eventually had to lay off staff due to the company's financial constraints. working stage	When the company was first established, I was hired as a data scientist. Due to my excellent performance and internship experience during college, I was quickly spotted and hired by the company. However, in my first few months at the company, I often felt I was in a male-dominated life episode	I worked late at the company, and when I was about to leave, it was dark outside and it was raining heavily. I wanted to take a taxi home, but all the taxis were taken away by others, so I had to turn on the map on my phone and prepare to. After walking for a while, I found a man following me, and I felt a little scared unconsciously. I tried to pick up the pace, but the man picked up the pace too. I started to panic a bit, I noticed a slight smile on his face and didn't know what that meant. When I came to a corner, the man stopped suddenly, and I stopped to see what he was doing. He took out an umbrella from his pocket, handed it to me, and said: "Miss, it's dangerous for you to
